

This course and public lecture series facilitates in-depth engagement with four prominent scholars' research in progress and, through it, a discussion about the cutting edge of theory and method.

Organized by
George-Paul Meiu,
Anthropology,
Julia Tischler,
African History,
Kenny Cupers,
Urban Studies,
and Marie
Muschalek,
African History.

AFRICA, METHOD, THEORY

How does current research grounded in Africa decenter the perspectives from which we understand knowledge production in urban studies, history, anthropology, and related fields?

11 October 2024
Grace Adeniyi-Ogunyankin
Queen's University

1 November 2024
Nancy Rose Hunt
University of Florida

22 November 2024
Ademide Adelusi-Adeluyi
Howard University

6 December 2024
Jacob S. Dlamini
Princeton University